WASHINGTON CITY.

The Senate Decides in Favor of Jurisdiction.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Senate this evening by 37 nays to 29 yeas, rejected a resolution of Paddock that Wm. W. Belknap having ceased to be a civil officer by reason of his resignation before the proceedings of impeachment against him by the House of Representatives the Senate cannot take jurisdiction in this case. It was then decided by the same vote that the said Belknap is amendable to trial and impeachment for acts done as Secretary of War notwithstanding his resignation, and it was ordered that the respondents and managers on the part of the House of Representatives appear on Thursday next at 1 o'clock to hear judgment of the Senate. Following is the vote in detail:

Yeas—Allison, Booth, Boutwell, Bruce, Cameron, Wise, Christiancy, Clayton, Conkling, Cragin, Dorsey, Eaton, Ferry, Frelinghuysen, Hamlin, Howard, Howe, Ingalls, Jones of Florida, Jones of Nevada, Logan, ... Hill of Maine, Morton, Oglesby, Paddock, Patterson, Spencer, West and Windom.

Nays—Bayard, Bogy, Burnside, Cameron of Pennsylvania, Caperton, Cockrill, Cooper, Davis, Davies, Dennis, Edmunds, Goldthwaite, Gordon, Hamilton, Hitchcock, Kelly, Kernan, Key, McCreery, McDonald, Maxey, Mitchell, Morrill of Vermont, Norwood, Randolph, Ransom, Robertson, Sargent, Saulsbury, Sherman, Stevenson, Thurman, Wadleigh, Wallace, Whyte, Withers and Wright.

The vote on the original resolution was the same as above, except reversed.

Possible Postponement of the Belknap Trial.

The Senate having decided that it has jurisdiction in the Belknap impeachment matter, the opinion is expressed that the trial will be postponed until November next, when the Senate will reassemble for that special purpose. Belknap has a large number of witnesses to be examined, as his counsel will in defense of their client contest every step of the managers on the part of the House. There is strong probability that the trial will continue six weeks or two months.

Lord, chairman of the board of managers, expresses the opinion that it will occupy at least six weeks. It is believed that to go on with the trial now would prolong the session of Congress until the latter part of August or the first of September, as in addition to the time consumed by the trial a month or six weeks will be required to finish up the absolutely necessary legislative business of passing the annual appropriation bills. Quite a number of Senators are in favor of postponing the trial until fall, and when the question is submitted to the Senate they will urge their views as to the advisability of the postponement. It is also suggested by several senators and prominent members of the House that the trial should be postponed until July 1st, in order to afford a reasonable prospect of action by the Senate on the appropriation bills. In the meantime, aside from these considerations, grave doubts are expressed by many disinterested persons whether, in view of the fact that less than two-thirds of the Senators voted in favor of jurisdiction, there is anything to be gained by proceeding with the trial at all. Very eminent legal authorities, who have no connection with the proceedings, say that the twenty-nine Senators who yesterday voted against taking jurisdiction will not be precluded by the Senate's action from voting "not guilty" on this jurisdictional ground when the final issue is presented.

Amendment to the N. P. R. R. Bill.

Representative Lane has submitted to the House Pacific railroad committee and is urging the adoption of an amendment to the pending bill for the extension of the time for the completion of the N. P. R. R., providing that as a condition of the extension the company shall construct and equip its road between Kalama, W. T., and Portland, Oregon, within two years from the enactment of the bill.

The statement will probably be made public to-morrow or the day following.

This letter orders the proceedings to be stayed until the matter can be fully investigated here, and questions of law determined, as well as ... general as to the rights of innocent purchasers under the dismissal of the appeal which occurred 19 years ago, although it is now alleged that the letter ordering the dismissal purporting to be signed by Caleb Cushing, then Attorney General, was a forgery.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The executive departments of the national government and the offices of the District of Columbia were closed to-day. Decoration Day is being observed as a holiday. The Grand Army of the Republic having charge of the arrangements marched to Arlington Cemetery, and after strewing flowers over the graves of the soldiers assembled near the main entrance, where addresses were made, a prayer offered and a poem read. The children from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan Home sang appropriate pieces.

Senator Morton, who was under an engagement to deliver an address at the decoration services at Wilmington, N. C., was delayed here by official duties. He however sent the address by a special messenger last night and it will be read there to-day.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Dispatches from Northern and Eastern cities show that Decoration Day was very generally observed.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—Decoration Day is being improved by the people of Philadelphia in visiting the Exposition. It is estimated that 40,000 people are now on the grounds. The weather is perfect.

CHICAGO, May 30.—Decoration Day is being very generally observed to-day by the closing of the banks and various other public offices. The ceremony of consecrating the soldiers' monument at Oakwood Cemetery will be performed this afternoon.

The dispatches from cities and towns in every direction show that the day has been observed as usual. Business suspended, cemeteries decorated, soldiers' monuments unveiled, parades, salutes, etc., has been the order of the day.

CHICAGO, May 30.—Decorations have taken place in the South the same as in the North, Northern and Southern people joining in decorating the graves of the Union and Confederate dead.

At San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—Decoration Day was celebrated in this city with more than usual solemnity. The banks, the several stock and exchange boards and insurance offices were closed. Flags were displayed on the public buildings. About 1 o'clock the members of the Grand Army of the Republic met at the corner of New Montgomery and Natoma streets, and joined Lincoln Post No. 1. The officers of the army and navy also rendezvoused there, as well as the officers of the National Guard. A large concourse of citizens was in attendance long before the hour appointed for the column to take up the line of march. The second regiment of infantry, National Guard of California, acted as escort to the column. About 2 o'clock the procession moved along New Montgomery to Montgomery, to Washington, to Kearney, to Sutter and to the Grand Army plat in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery. All along the line of march there were ladies and children, as well as numbers of the sterner sex, each provided with choice floral offerings. Following the escort of the National Guard was a hearse drawn by four black horses caparisoned in black. Inside the floor of the hearse was covered with flowers. Next came Veterans and the German Dragoons on foot brought up the rear of the Veterans, then followed Major General Vernon and staff in carriages. At the cemetery the decoration ceremonies took place, companies being detailed to decorate the graves of those who slept in other cemeteries than Odd Fellows. Comrade R. W. Bacchus delivered an address over graves of the dead and the comrades then dispersed. This evening memorial services will be held at Union Hall.

At Virginia City.

VIRGINIA CITY, May 30.—Memorial Day is being well observed. The procession is now at the cemetery decorating the graves. It consists of General Batterman and staff, four companies of infantry, a platoon of artillery, the Mexican veterans, five brigade and ex soldiers of the Federal and Confederate armies walking side and side and without distinction in a long column of fours. Several hundred children from the public schools bearing flags and bouquets, and a number of carriages were also in procession.

Silver Bullion Attached.

Yesterday evening the assessor attached $20,000 worth of silver bullion hot from the moulds in the office of the Con. Virginia Mining Co. for refusal to pay bullion tax, the constitutionality of which the company deny.

THE KERR SLANDER.

How the Charge against Kerr got Out.

NEW YORK, May 30.—District Attorney Bliss was before the Congressional sub-committee on the administration of the Department of Justice yesterday. During his examination an informal discussion took place in which charges against Speaker Kerr were referred to by Bliss. On being questioned by Caulfield, Bliss said he was supposed to be mainly responsible for Harney's appearance at Washington as a witness. He, Bliss, had known the facts to be in the possession of Harney for about two months. He had communicated to Bass, a member of the committee, that Harney was Appraiser Darling's right hand man, and that when Darling's connection with the Third Avenue Savings Bank was under investigation an effort was made to stop the investigation by a threat that if Harney's connection with the affairs of the bank were exposed he would make revelations about Kerr. Bliss said Bass told him he would not present any charges against Kerr unless they seemed to be well founded, and that he, Bliss, had carefully questioned Harney in regard to his relations with Kerr. He was satisfied that Harney was truthful and honest.

It is stated that Kerr secured the desirable and much sought appointment for Green, whom he did not know, who was not in his district, who was opposed to him in politics, and who was introduced to him by a man who took money from applicants who had not any valid ground of influence with Kerr. Why was this? That is the question for Kerr to answer.

Record of Kerr's Accusers.

NEW YORK, May 30.—The past history of Harney and Green, who have recently achieved fame in connection with the charges against Speaker Kerr, is being industriously hunted up and published in the metropolitan papers. The following is the record of Harney according to the Sun: He is well known among politicians in this city. He was formerly conductor on the Third avenue railroad while William A. Darling was its president. When Darling was elected to Congress in 1866 Harney accompanied him to Washington as valet and was appointed assistant doorkeeper of the House through Darling's influence. He was assigned to the Democratic side of the House, which enabled him to form the acquaintance of the Democratic members. On the appointment of Darling in 1870 to be appraiser of the port, Harney was given a position under him. He acted as messenger and doorkeeper, but was classed on the payroll as a clerk. His pay was $1,800 a year. His intimate relations with Darling caused much scandal. He is a 19th ward politician and was elected supervisor under John V. Davenport.

A. P. Green, for whom Harney bought the commission, came from the 4th ward. His occupations have been various. Since 1866 he has been attorney, deputy marshal, surveyor, instructor and stable keeper.

Tribune on Kerr.

The Tribune's Washington special calls the case the cloudiest ever. It says it is as great a sensation as the Belknap affair and asks if it is another safe burglary conspiracy. The whole matter is narrowed down to a question of veracity between Kerr and Harney. Kerr has hitherto borne an unblemished reputation, and when we mention that Harney was assistant doorkeeper, it will not be difficult to form some idea of him. As ex-Doorkeeper Fitzhugh has given the world inside views of that office and its belongings, it should not be difficult to judge as to which of the two is more likely to be telling the truth.

The World on the Kerr Scandal.

Speaking of the Kerr charge, the World says the damage already done to the committee by this wicked story is irreparable. The damage it can permanently do Speaker Kerr we believe to be very slight, but in the name of truth and justice we warn the committee that they hew straight down to lay the roots of this conspiracy.

ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Porte Refuses Foreign Intervention.

LONDON, May 30.—The Porte has instructed its ambassador to Austria who is at Berlin to remonstrate against the expected official communication of the Berlin memorandum, as Turkey would be obliged to totally reject its proposals. The Porte instructs its ambassador to declare that intervention of the friendly powers is thoroughly inadmissible. The Porte cites several reasons why proposals cannot be admitted, the principal of which are that two months armistice would only revive the activity of the insurgents, who are now disheartened by defeat, and that the sovereign rights of the Sultan include free action with regard to the disposition of his army, and the Sultan could never submit to such interference with these rights as would prohibit him from moving troops within his own territories whenever he considered necessary.

The Sultan of Turkey Dethroned.

LONDON, May 30.—The following has just been received here from Constantinople: It is officially announced here that by the unanimous will of the people Abdul Aziz has been dethroned and the heir presumptive Murad Effendi proclaimed Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 30—Afternoon.—The dethroned Sultan is kept under guard in a mosque at the extremity of the seraglio. The ministers informed Murad Effendi that he was proclaimed Sultan on Monday night. The popular demonstration took place next morning, but no resistance was offered to the new regime. Perfect tranquility now prevails. Both Christians and Mussulmans express great satisfaction at the change. The city will be illuminated to-night, and the festivities will continue three days.

The Pall Mall Gazette says a private telegram states that the revolution in Constantinople was effected without the disturbance of public tranquility.

Announcement of the Deposition.

In the House of Commons this afternoon Bourke, Under Secretary for the Foreign Department, in reply to a question said the Turkish Ambassador at London and the English Ambassador at Constantinople, had informed Lord Derby of the dethronement of the Sultan and a proclamation of Murad Effendi as his successor. No further particulars of the movement have been received, but a simultaneous telegram from Salonica announces that the proclamation of Murad was received there with general approval.

PARIS, May 30.—Le Temps states that the message in cypher notifying the Turkish embassy here of the deposition began as follows: We, Abdul Aziz, conformably with the wishes of the majority of our subjects, abdicate. This was immediately communicated to Duc DeCazes, minister of foreign affairs. The embassy also received a message stating that the Softas first required the Sultan to relinquish the title of Caliph which rendered him inviolable. The Sultan soon afterward abdicated.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—His Highness the Grand Vizier has just addressed the following telegram to the Turkish minister here: In the presence of the unanimous will of all the people, Abdul Aziz Khan has been dethroned to-day, and his Majesty the Sultan Murad, heir presumptive, to the Imperial throne, has been proclaimed Emperor of Turkey.

Political Crisis in Constantinople.

PARIS, May 30.—The Evening News says the situation in Constantinople is well received in both political and financial circles. It is believed that the settlement of the Eastern difficulties is thereby facilitated. It is stated that the new Turkish ministry will comprise Medhat Pasha as Grand Vizier and Sadyk Pasha, at present Ambassador to France, as minister of finance. According to reports published in Cologne, Medhat Pasha and Grand Vizier were at the head of the revolutionary movement. Murad has accepted three of the propositions submitted to him, viz: the institution of a permanent assembly of notables, the abolition of the Seraglio and the reduction of the civil list to 5,000,000 piasters. It is reported here that England is willing to agree to the holding of an international conference on the Eastern question.

Winslow to be Surrendered.

LONDON, May 29.—Replies to inquiries made in the lobby of the House of Commons show that the government doubtless intends to surrender Winslow, and the only difficulty is to find means of doing so lawfully. Members of Parliament of all parties agree as to the justness of the surrender.

LONDON, May 30.—In the House of Commons to-morrow, government will ask for a further remand for Winslow, pending Secretary Fish's reply to Earl Derby's last note.

It is expected that the minister's answer to-night to Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt's question regarding the correspondence in the Winslow case will throw some light on the course the government intends pursuing hereafter.

CANADA.

Fire.

QUEBEC, May 30—4 A. M.—Fire started on Scott street at 10 o'clock P. M. to-day and is now raging. Fifty houses have already been destroyed. The efforts of the firemen appear useless, and owing to a prevailing high wind and the amount of inflammable material in the neighborhood it is feared that the greater part of the Saint Louis suburb will be destroyed.

Second dispatch says the fires continue to rage with unabated fury. Already the houses destroyed may be counted by hundreds. Almost the entire population of the Saint Louis suburb are moving, and hundreds of unfortunate sufferers will be compelled to pass the night in the open fields. Thousands of people are on the streets viewing the fire. The water was turned off from the ward where the fire started, which accounted for its rapid spread. The Asylum of the Good Shepherd is now out of danger.

10 A. M.—The fire is still burning, but is now somewhat under control. The high wind of the afternoon has abated and a good supply of water is now available. The fire has passed the first line ... of the St. Louis suburb, extending ... the extreme western limit to the eastern ... then southerly to ... Third street; south of St. John street. Only an estimate of the loss can be made to-night. The number of houses burned may be ... and the loss $1,000,000. The fields adjacent to the burned district are covered with piles of all descriptions. Hundreds of poor sufferers are compelled to pass the night without shelter. ... where the fire originated bears an unenviable notoriety for fires, having been almost wholly destroyed twice within the last five years.

A Maniac Shot—Justifiable Homicide.

SAN JOSE, May 29.—Yesterday, Sunday, about 4 o'clock, Joe D. Walker, proprietor of the Exchange hotel at Gilroy, was shot through the head and instantly killed by Adam Wolfrom, formerly a citizen of this city, but at present foreman of the consolidated tobacco company of Gilroy. The circumstances, as we learn them from the coroner who held an inquest yesterday, were as follows: Walker's wife died about two months ago, and since then he has been somewhat embarrassed financially. This led him to drink occasionally, but he was not a drunkard. Last Saturday morning it was noticed that he was absent-minded when addressed, but nothing particular was thought of it. He went to bed as usual. About 3 o'clock Sunday morning the inmates of the hotel, most of whom were sleeping up stairs, were awakened by a general clamor like the breaking in of doors, smashing of windows, demolishing of shelves and everything else that was portable. A few minutes later Walker was discovered perfectly nude, demolishing everything that could be broken. A second glance proved the man was a maniac of a violent type. A serving man went to his room to see what was wrong, and had to run for his life to escape the fury of the madman. A servant and Walker's four children were sleeping in one of the lower rooms, and narrowly escaped by getting up stairs. There all the inmates, mostly women and children, were huddled, not knowing what to do. The only men in the place were Wolfrom, Knight, Sheridt and Smith, who put themselves at the head of their families, waiting an opportunity to escape. At about the time they were aware of their danger, the maniac started up the hall stairs. Enough had been seen of the lunatic to know that he would likely kill every one on the floor if allowed to get up. Wolfrom was guarding the stairway, and on the madman came. He was armed with a portion of a door, and held the lock in his hand, which had been wrenched off. Wolfrom ordered him back several times, but he continued to advance, and threw the heavy lock at Wolfrom. The latter again told him to go back, but, with a maniacal laugh, he dashed upward. At this Wolfrom fired his pistol at him. The ball entered the madman's forehead, and he fell to the bottom of the stairs a corpse. The above are the facts as elicited at the coroner's inquest. The jury returned a verdict that the killing was done by Wolfrom, and that the killing was perfectly justifiable, as being in defense of his wife and children, and that they exonerated him from all blame in the premises. Walker was a German by birth, and at the time of his death was about 45 years old.

Indian Fight.

CAMPO, May 30.—Last Sunday night a party of 14 citizens from Milquaty valley, went to Jacquemebe valley to see the captain of the Indians at that ranchero concerning the disappearance and killing of a large number of stock. Upon their approach the Indians commenced firing and gave a war hoop, the settlers dismounted and returned the fire, killing one Indian instantly. The Indians retreated to a gulch about five feet deep; but the effective attack of the settlers soon silenced them when a parley was held. The Indians acknowledged killing the stock, and wanted to compromise. The Indians numbered 40 well armed warriors, no settler was hurt.

THE HAPPY LIFE.

How happy is he born and taught
That serveth not another's will;
Whose armor is his honest thought,
And simple truth his utmost skill!

Whose passions not his masters are;
Whose soul is still prepared for death—
Untied unto the worldly care
Of public fame or private breath;

Who envies none that chance doth raise,
Or vice; who never understood
How deepest wounds are given by praise;
Nor rules of state, but rules of good;

Who hath his life from rumors freed,
Whose conscience is his strong retreat;
Whose state can neither flatterers feed,
Nor ruin make accusers great;

Who God doth late and early pray
More of His grace than gifts to lend;
And entertains the harmless day
With a well chosen book or friend;

This man is freed from servile bands
Of hope to rise, or fear to fall;
Lord of himself, though not of lands;
And having nothing, yet hath all.

OUR PHILADELPHIA LETTER.

G. W. CHILDS AND HIS LEDGER—FORNEY, MC CLURE AND M. MICHAEL—OREGONIANS ABROAD.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14, 1876.

Afflictions sore long time she bore,
Physicians were in vain;
But God at last has heard her moan
And eased her of her pain—
Gone to meet her cousins.

This little gem of elegiac poetry, with a choice variety of other tid bits in the same line which appear almost daily in the obituary columns of the Public Ledger of this city, has been ascribed by Dana, of the Sun, to G. Washington Childs, A. M., Poet Laureate. No one can doubt, who has often scanned the columns of the Ledger—and the obituary column is the one of most absorbing interest in the whole sheet—and who has noted how frequently it has appeared, varied of course on different occasions to suit the peculiar circumstances and relationships of the departed one, that it is a favorite selection of the proprietors, but despite the fact that he has been pronounced the greatest elegiac bard of the nineteenth century, there is a growing distrust in the minds of the people as to whether he ever wrote it and whether after all he fulfills all the conditions of a first-class poet. Whatever may be said of his abilities, and whether he writes well or writes at all, it is certain that this daily selection of poetry by the so called mournful bard makes mighty interestin' readin'," though the frequent reiteration of some of his favorite sentiments makes it a trifling monotonous, and indicates that his powers, whatever they are, are circumscribed within a rather narrow range. The titles of A. M. and of Poet Laureate have been gratuitously bestowed upon him by Dana, who knowing him as an intimate friend of the President, loses no opportunity to hold him up in some ridiculous light in the columns of the Sun. He needs no other credentials to entitle him to the respect of the people than Dana's dislike, but if the enmity of this police of libellers is not sufficient to ease a good reputation upon, his own good works, at least, entitle him to some recognition. While Mr. Childs may not be properly styled a journalist, he is at least a newspaper man, and if in nothing else resembles Horace Greeley in the cut of his whiskers and in his childlike, unsuspecting nature. One very important fact connected with the history of the man which the people have not overlooked, is ... he has been ... in business, and is now rated among the millionaires of Philadelphia. The Public Ledger is always spoken of as Childs' Ledger, but Rumor says—and she probably lies ... the case when she gets into ... that just ten years ago he, with Drexel the banker, bought the ... for $75,000, ... which Childs paid but $35,000, and ... the proportions now owned by each, and that our poet ... the ... of ... just as Dana says "the ... editor of the ... to Jay Gould ... Like the N. Y. Herald they accept all the advertisements offered, but unlike the Herald they never send a man to the lava beds or the sources of the Nile. No matter ever gets into their columns until it has become stale and fixed as a fact in history. Despite all this its circulation is larger than that of any other paper in the city. The boarding house keeper, the business man, the man who wants to buy property or who has it to sell, servant girls, professional clerks out of a job, and the stranger who wants "good board with all the comforts of a home," and lastly the man who has lost a valuable yellow dog, all advertise in the Ledger, and the next morning, of course, they all buy a copy. The landlady to see if the printers didn't make a mistake in setting up her ad., the business man to see if his is conspicuously displayed, the man who has lost the dog to look over the column of "dogs found," and the man who has found it to see if any of the saffron-colored spaniels advertised as lost correspond with the one in his possession. There are only two classes who are denied access to its advertising columns. These are the quack doctors and the bereaved husbands who want to announce to the public that their beds and boards have been left without just cause or provocation. The quack doctors are refused on grounds of public policy, and the bereaved husbands because it is the universal experience of mankind that nine out of ten of their kind never had a bed or board other than that furnished by their departing spouses. Under this policy the Ledger has prospered, and George W. Childs now boasts of one of the finest residences on Walnut street and a fortune of $2,500,000. His liberality is well known, though of a quiet and unostentatious kind. He is said never to turn a deaf ear to a charitable appeal, and his yearly donations are rated at not less than $30,000. He has the lives of all his employes insured, and every year sends them down on a summer's jaunt to Cape May or some other sea-side resort, at least somebody has said he does and others have reported it, and it may be accepted as in keeping with his general character. Being a millionaire, and possessed of that elegant Walnut street property, and having withal a weakness for "literature," he is by no means an insignificant figure in Philadelphia society. His intimacy with the President is indicated by the fact that the latter is always his guest on his visits to this city. At the opening of the exhibition on Wednesday last, it became his province to entertain both the President and Secretary Fish with their families, and on the evening of that day he gave a reception to what is pronounced to have been the most brilliant and distinguished assemblage that ever gathered in the parlors of a private gentleman on the American Continent. The President and Cabinet, the Supreme Court, the leading members of both houses of Congress, the Emperor and Empress of Brazil, Generals Sherman, Sheridan, McDowell, Sir Edward Thornton and various others distinguished in political, military and literary life, contributed by their presence to make it a decidedly "tony" affair, and the genial Childs moved about in the distinguished throng like one born to command. Of course it was an elegant affair. The reporters in fact all say as much. It was a fitting finale to the day's exercises, and when the future historian writes up the busy scenes of the opening day of the great Centennial Exhibition he will fail to do his duty if he does not tell what a pleasant time some of the folks had that evening around at the Ledger man's on Walnut street.

But the dignity and reputation of the newspaper fraternity of Philadelphia does not rest wholly upon the shoulders of George W. Childs. The names of such representative editors as

JOHN W. FORNEY, ALEX. K. MCCLURE AND MORTON M'MICHAEL

Which are national if not world wide, have contributed far more than he to give tone and respectability to the press of this city, and they may justly claim equal rank with Reid, with Bowles, with Watterson and with Halstead among the great journalists of the nation. No American needs an introduction to Colonel Forney who is at all familiar with the history of the country for the past fifteen or twenty years, or who knows the sturdy and effective work done by his newspaper, the Press. Though he has been so many years in active life he gives not the slightest sign of retiring from service, but rather bids fair to last longer than many of the younger members of the brotherhood. His two years sojourn in Europe during which he rendered such invaluable service to the Centennial cause seems to have had a decidedly rejuvenating effect, and he came back looking for all the world like a beef eating Englishman, an effect to which his mutton chop whiskers ... enough—contribute in no small ... more at home he has settled down ... perched upon—the editorial tripod of the ... where he will do effective service for the ... publican cause during the coming ... WEDNESDAY MORNING MAY 31 1876

THE SENATE'S DECISION

The Senate has decided to entertain the impeachment of Belknap, overruling the objection to the jurisdiction. The vote was not divided on the line of party, several Democrats voting against the impeachment and several Republicans for it. This establishes a precedent that might be made to play an important part in American politics hereafter. It was conceded by the managers of the case that a private citizen cannot be impeached for a misdemeanor in his private capacity, but they held that for misfeasance in office an impeachment would be sustained after the guilty person had ceased to be an officer, and this proposition the Senate decides in their favor. There is no statute of limitations in impeachment cases, so that it appears to be no legal objection to an impeachment of Floyd, the corrupt Secretary of War under Buchanan, nor to similar proceedings against any of the corrupt officials that have been found out from his day down to Belknap's. Office holders will have to understand now that there is something more in the perils of evil doing than removal from their places—something which they can not escape by simply stepping down and out when their crimes have been discovered. They may be followed up with disfranchisement and the disgrace of their delinquencies fastened upon them.

IN THE MATTER OF "COMING OUT."

We were greatly surprised to receive yesterday a letter from a valued friend in Washington county, taking us to task in a very lively strain for "coming out for George Morrow for Sheriff of Washington county against H B Morgan, the Republican candidate," and intimating that the sheriff of that county is none of our "funeral." We were surprised at receipt of this letter, for the reason, first, that we had fully supposed we had the same right as any other citizen to "come out" for any man for any office; second, that we had supposed every citizen of the State was or ought to be interested in seeing good men elected to the county offices in every county in the State; third, our friend does not pretend to say that Mr Morrow is not a good man and suitable for sheriff; and, fourth, that, as a matter of fact, we had not "come out" for Mr Morrow for sheriff. We said he was a good man, and he is. We have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with Mr Morgan. If we have ever met him we have no recollection of it. He may be, and probably is, an excellent man and excellently qualified for the office. We spoke only of the candidates with whom we are personally acquainted, on both tickets, and, among them, of Mr Morrow, without so much as intimating that those not specifically mentioned were inferior to them in any qualification for the offices for which they have been selected. We "came out" for no one, and do not propose to "go in" for any, not being sufficiently informed as to the merits of all the candidates. If we might be allowed to advise in a matter which is not our "funeral," we should advise the people of Washington county, who, it is to be presumed, know all about the candidates, to vote for the man they deem most fit for the office, whether that man is Mr. Morrow or Mr. Morgan.

The Democratic scheme to defeat the Republican ticket in Marion county by putting up a side show in the interest of Grover is a flash in the pan. The Republicans have a good ticket in the field and are not disposed to be led into Grover's net. The side show falsely calling itself an Independent ticket is particularly distasteful to independent Republicans, since it is clearly nothing but a device of Governor Grover's to further his personal ambitions. There may be half a dozen citizens honestly in favor of the side show, but the soul and spirit of the concern is the State administration. Republicans, whether independent or straight-out, may safely assume that whatever has the sympathy of the Democratic ring as that movement has, is a pretty good thing to oppose. The inspiration of that ring is partyism in its most odious sense, and its record is that of all political rings—a record of selfish greed, unrestrained by patriotic sense of duty. The people of Marion county should rebuke the management of this ring by giving the Republican ticket the largest majority that a full united vote can give.

The Independents of Douglas county have Hon. Geo W. Riddle on their ticket for sheriff. Mr. Riddle was one of the leading spirits in all reform measures in the last legislature—ever on the alert to protect and promote the interests of his county and of the whole State. A better selection could not have been made. He is a true man, thoroughly practical and—what is of vast importance in these days—incorruptible. A man who has been tried and found always faithful in public service, is a safe man to trust with the important office of sheriff.

All accounts agree that Hon. Raleigh Stott has no match in his competitor for the office of district attorney. Fred is a good boy, but his vaulting ambition o'erleaped itself when he determined to run for district attorney. The office is one of great importance in the administration of justice, and the people can not afford to fill it with a good boy who is only a good boy. A few years of experience will fit Fred for the duties of the office, if he grows pretty fast.

The New York Tribune's Centennial correspondent refers in a very complimentary way to the display made by our State in the Exposition. He says:

> The Oregon exhibit is rich in wheat, oats, woods and in dried fruits put up in glass-topped boxes as handsomely as the best French prunes. We have nothing in the East to compare with the dried apples, pears, peaches and cherries shown here.

Mr W H Conyers has declined the nomination of the Republicans for sheriff of Columbia county, and G W Maxwell, at the request of a large number of citizens of the county, has announced himself a candidate. Mr Maxwell is an excellent man, and will prove a strong candidate, and if elected will make a good sheriff.

The citizens of Sheridan and vicinity are going to have a grand centennial union Sunday school picnic at Roberts' bridge, Camp creek, on Wednesday, June 7th. The public are cordially invited. A large assemblage and a good time are anticipated.

We have received the first number of The People's Journal published at Jacksonville. It advocates the people's ticket and independent principles and is ably edited.

INFORMATION FOR USE IN PHILADELPHIA

PORTLAND, May 30, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your to-day's issue appears a letter of Hon. A. J. Dufur, in which he complains of a lack of printed documents giving a condensed statement of the resources, climate, prices of land, products, mineral resources, etc., of our State.

For the information of your readers, I beg to remark that we shall have printed for distribution at the Centennial 10,000 copies of a pamphlet containing a brief description of the climate, soil, mineral and agricultural resources, means of communication, commerce, manufactures, etc., etc., of our State, and that 1,000 copies of said pamphlets are now in the hands of Mr. Dufur.

Furthermore, I have to say that I am surprised at the tenor of Mr. Dufur's letter, inasmuch as at the date of his letter he must have been informed that he would shortly be furnished with 10,000 copies of such pamphlet.

I enclose copy of said pamphlet.

Very respectfully,
P. SCHULZE,

WE RISE AND EXPLAIN.

HILLSBORO, May 29, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Since you have seen proper to endorse and recommend Mr George Morrow, candidate on the Independent ticket for sheriff, who was always a Democrat, is now, and was during the rebellion, and is counted on for voting for Mr Lane for Congress, will you please tell us whether you are a Republican or a Democrat, as the people would like to know which side you are advocating.

The above is a subsequent letter from the same friend who wrote the one referred to in another place. The writer ought to know our sentiments well enough by this time to know that we care not a straw for the question of party in a purely administrative county office, which has no possible connection with party politics.

Under direction of Geo C Sears the procession was formed at the corner of Third and Alder streets at 2 o clock in the following order Northwestern Band Washington Guard Emmet Guard Portland Light Battery City Rifles members of Baker and Canby Post carriages in which were seated the President and Orator of the Day Chaplain Gen Howard Col Wilson Gen Eaton, Col Wood Gen Babbitt Capt Sladen and members of the Mexican Veterans A little after 2 o clock the procession moved marching up to Fourth up that street to Main down Main to First down First to Stark and thence to the ferry landing After crossing the river the line of march was taken up to Lone Fir Cemetery where the ceremonies were to be held

For several hours before the procession moved notwithstanding the showery state of the weather a constant stream of humanity began to pour in the direction of the city of the dead Nearly every person—man woman or child—was bearing a basketful of fragrant flowers or handsome bouquets which were to be strewn about the graves of departed loved ones By the time the procession reached the cemetery at least 500 persons had assembled Reaching the cemetery, the procession filed in through the open gate the band discoursing an appropriate air and marched to the grave of the late H A Bodman who had been a member of the Grand Army Arriving at the spot a hollow square was formed about the grave by the companies At one end of the square a temporary platform had been constructed, on which was placed chairs and a stand, for the accommodation of the officers of the day invited guests, etc Judge Woodward president of the day, called the assemblage to order and introduced the order of exercises by making a few fitting remarks The band played an appropriate air when Divine blessing was invoked by Rev W C Chattin the Chaplain The Amphion Glee Club then sang Humbly at Thy Footstool Kneeling ' Rev J F Ellis the Orator of the Day was introduced and delivered a short but very excellent address Following the address, the band discoursed Dead March in Saul ' Comrade W S Newbury being absent Gen O O Howard was introduced and made some very excellent remarks The 'Soldiers Memorial Day ' was beautifully rendered by the Amphion Quartette Club when Comrades J H Woodward and Geo C Sears advanced, and making a few appropriate remarks, strewed flowers about the grave of the departed. The band rendered "The Red White and Blue," after which Comrades Frank Story and Asher Tyler each spoke for a moment, passing about the graves scattering fragrant garlands ' Rest, Soldier Rest ' was next rendered with exquisite effect by the Amphion Club, when the ceremonies were concluded The assemblage dispersed about the cemetery visiting the graves of departed friends and loved ones, and decorating them with flowers After half an hour spent in this manner the "Assembly" was sounded at the gate, the procession was reformed and headed by the band marched back to the city and disbanded Showers fell at brief intervals during the day which had the effect to render things generally unpleasant, and prevented hundreds from visiting the cemetery However, the affair was managed in a very creditable and satisfactory manner by the committee to whom it was entrusted

WHY LEAVE HIM OUT?

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In looking over your issue this morning I was not a little surprised in reading over the names of Vice Presidents appointed by the Centennial executive committee to see omitted from the list the name of one of our most respected Pioneers and the first mayor of the city under the State law, Mr S J McCormick Among the Vice Presidents I notice the names of all our ex mayors now living in the city and of some gentlemen not more than a month in the State and why the name of Mr McCormick should be omitted is beyond my comprehension There is no old citizen among us but knows that Mr McCormick was always ready to take an active if not a leading part for the last twenty five years in this city, in any national celebration of his adopted country Will the Centennial executive committee please explain if his being an Irishman is the cause of his name being thus excluded Please insert this and oblige

The medical class of the Willamette University will hold their graduating exercises in the Chapel this evening, the following members being candidates for graduating honors Thos Mann of Portland Harry Lane of East Portland A J Giesy Aurora Dan H Cox of Salem Jno H Irvine of Albany Levi H and J R Brown of Corvallis Rufus Mallory will deliver the annual address and A M Belt M D the customary charge Music will be furnished by the Aurora string band and the evening's festivities will close with a banquet at the Chemeketa Hotel

The game of base ball played on Saturday last between the nines picked from the Capital and Tiger Engine companies was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators The game was called at 2 30 P M Wm G Stanton umpire the following nines in the field Capitals—Crossman McCully Trebles John and James Leggs Crandall McDowell Forsythe and Lamsey Tigers—George Litch and Charles Belt Atkin Irvine Taylor Scoville Mays and Reynolds The game was well played throughout the Capitals leading from the start and winning the game the score standing 30 to 10 in their favor At its conclusion S Friedman Esq offered a silver ice pitcher as a prize to the club winning the second game and arrangements are being made for a new contest

The long talked of spelling match at the Willamette University for the championship and the handsome gold medal offered by A Bush, Esq took place yesterday about thirty-five pupils participating One by one they missed their words until the hour of noon necessitated a cessation of hostilities when but four contestants remained viz A N Moores Bertha Moores Ida Hutton and T C Jory On renewing the contest, Mr Moores resigned his seat on the word grisly ' Ida Hutton and Bertha Moores missed ' fosse and T C Jory remained the champion of the school and winner of the prize The Hesperian society, of which Mr Jory is a member of course take great pride in the achievement The medal was manufactured especially for the occasion by W W Martin of this city

Commencement week proper opened last evening with musical charades and the prize declamations at Reed's Opera House The large audience room was filled to overflowing by the friends of the Willamette University, desirable seats being above par by the time the curtain rose After an instrumental solo came on the declamations, Frank Irvine and Ada May representing the Alkas and Atheneums, and R D Allen and Mary Powell the Hesperians and Concordias Frank Irvine led off the piece selected for the gentlemen, being "The Death bed Scene of Benedict Arnold" one of the most difficult prose selections that could be made His rendition was well received—a trifle faulty perhaps in articulation, but on the whole well performed His gestures were very appropriate and his intonations correct Mr Allen followed speaking slow and distinctly, notwithstanding a natural defect in his voice His gestures perhaps were not as appropriate as his competitor's but between the two it was difficult to decide as to superiority some favoring one and some the other The ladies then stepped forward Miss Mary Powell taking the lead The selection made for them was also peculiarly difficult to recite it being Hagar in the Wilderness" Miss Powell appeared to excellent advantage, and from the opening to the closing line entered heart and soul as it were, into the beauty and sentiment of the selection It was perhaps overdrawn at times but her gestures were natural and her intonations above reproach or criticism Not one word was indistinctly spoken and so faithfully was her portrayal of Hagar's anguish that the eyes of many of her hearers were blinded with tears Miss Ada May's first appearance was directly the opposite of that of her competitor and so quiet and unassuming was it her friends feared she would fail in her aspirations But as she progressed in the piece she became more at ease and more enthusiastic, and ere its close displayed, most conclusively rare talents in the art of elocution She did not however succeed in working upon the finer feelings of the audience as did Miss Powell, creating visible emotions of sympathy but nevertheless she painted in vivid and life like colors the agony of the heart stricken mother The judges, unknown to each other or to the contestants were afterwards announced as Dr Test of Portland Hon S F Chadwick and J H Albert, Esq of this city Their decisions were in favor of Miss Ada May and Frank Irvine the announcement being hailed with delight by some, and with regret of course by others it being impossible to please every one The musical charade was good and should be seen to be appreciated The word was excellent and was enacted in three scenes about seventy five young ladies participating Mrs J M Patterson presiding at the instrument in her usual efficient manner The various scenic displays were put upon the stage with excellent effect and in their arrangement evinced exquisite taste on the part of the management The various choruses were simply grand and impressive while the solos without exception were very praiseworthy The duet by Misses Ellen and Ollie Chamberlin was exquisite, and merited the rousing encore it received Miss Althea Moores and Miss Maria E Smith sustained their respective roles as queens of the birds and fairies with credit to themselves and the satisfaction of their friends Misses Ella and Josie Melson deserve likewise special mention for the parts so admirably sustained by them as well as the little girls Hattie Parrish and Leona Willis The entertainment closed with a magnificent tableaux vivant, and the large audience went home well pleased with all they had seen and heard

DON'T TAKE IT TO HEART

There's many a trouble
Would break like a bubble
And into the waters of Lethe depart
Did not we rehearse it
And tenderly nurse it
And give it a permanent place in the heart

There's many a sorrow
Would vanish to-morrow
Were we not willing to furnish the wings,
So sadly intruding,
And quietly brooding
It hatches out all sorts of horrible things

How welcome the seeming
Of looks that are beaming
Whether one's wealthy or whether one's poor
Eyes bright as a berry,
Cheeks red as a cherry,
The groan and the curse and the heartache can cure.

Resolved to be merry
All worry to ferry
Across the famed waters that bid us forget
And no longer fearful
But happy and cheerful
We feel life has much that's worth living for yet

MAY YOUNG WOMEN WALK ABOUT ALONE?

It has become a lively theme of discussion lately in the British press whether the British young lady of the period can or cannot be trusted to go about the public highways alone. The adventure of Miss Dickinson with Colonel [illegible] no doubt sets the matter agoing, but it has [illegible] in a much wider range of late than railway travel. The rule with young ladies of position in England has heretofore been never to venture into the streets without a governess [illegible], or a "protector" of some sort. This [illegible] has been giving way of late principally, [illegible] under the urgency of a certain set of young ladies of social rank who are not very favorably known as "the fast set" [illegible] is now agitated with the [illegible]. The discussion is not without [illegible] interest for New York, which in [illegible] particulars is becoming, we say more "cosmopolitan" than it used to be. But without touching it from our own point of view [illegible], we submit parts of a curious letter [illegible] London Public Opinion which contains [illegible] remarkable statements about the ways and [illegible] of gentlemanly men in London.

It is equally an insult to girls who must go [illegible], and to richer girls to suppose they [illegible] out of "fast sets" unless another [illegible] at their elbow. If a girl is of [illegible] "undesirable acquaintances" [illegible] opportunities of making them, [illegible] chaperoned if not, she may [illegible] to avoid them, not because the gov[illegible] would scold, but from her own self-re[illegible].

Far from being too independent nowadays, [illegible] not independent enough. Many a [illegible] girl, pining with dyspepsia and [illegible], might become robust [illegible] health, if she might go walking [illegible], taking plenty of exercise, the [illegible] things to make healthy, beautiful [illegible] and strong, brave children. But girls [illegible] with proprieties that ex[illegible] another form of [illegible] restraint. [illegible] girls take walks, go to garden [illegible], to any parties where the guests [illegible]? They would [illegible] themselves as good [illegible] brothers would be spared [illegible] of which is so often [illegible] favor) of escorting [illegible] would learn not to an[illegible] they see her alone, [illegible] ungentlemanly, and they [illegible] Lady Mary This, or the Hon [illegible] about alone as much as Miss [illegible] who is equally a gentlewoman, but [illegible] giving her own living. At [illegible] a few wicked wretches, but [illegible] of gentlemanly men, seem to [illegible] lady by herself is fair game, [illegible], one man in three has a [illegible] always and a dun [illegible].

[illegible] to remedy all this is not to place [illegible] upon women, but for [illegible] very mean and cowardly it is [illegible] to mislead foolish girls. Yet I [illegible] for them they seldom persist [illegible] the length of one street, and sure [illegible] for a girl to neglect educa[illegible] rather than submit to that [illegible].

[illegible] the custom in Great Britain for [illegible] all classes to be perfectly free, so no matter of remark for any girl to [illegible] and that custom in itself will be a [illegible] to women, will raise their [illegible] of health and intelligence, and we [illegible] less of indelicate conversation —N

[illegible] LANDS — THE OTHER SIDE

U. S. LAND OFFICE
LINKVILLE OREGON, May 24, 1876
[illegible] OF THE OREGONIAN

[illegible] have given publication in your paper [illegible] 1876, to a letter dated Linkville, [illegible] the signature of "One of [illegible]" in which the writer, in a lengthy [illegible] has made free use of [illegible] and called in question my integrity [illegible] in your columns for a brief [illegible].

[illegible] the writer says that I am one of [illegible] filers upon swamp land in this [illegible]. The truth is I am not now and [illegible] an applicant to purchase either [illegible] or indirectly, a single acre of swamp [illegible] in the [illegible] lake basin.

[illegible] of that letter further says that [illegible] in moving into this country was to [illegible] in getting the U S surveys set aside, [illegible] upon lands which the State claims as [illegible] which lands he avers were returned as good agricultural lands. This charge is wholly without foundation of truth both as to my [illegible] in moving to this country and [illegible] as to the character of the return upon the [illegible] plats now on file in this office. In [illegible] of being returned "as good agricultural [illegible]" "One of the Many" says they are the returns says, subject to annual overflow [illegible] with the original lines plainly marked upon the [illegible] showing the line of such overflow.

The charge that I have refused to allow pre-emption filings upon the lands claimed by the State as swamp, prior to the withdrawal of [illegible] by the commissioner of the general land [illegible] is also utterly groundless. So far as [illegible] entries are concerned I have [illegible] to allow any to be made upon land that had a prior claim of any kind upon it simply because it would have been contrary to both the law and the instructions of the Interior Department to have allowed them. Any other course on my part would have been a violation of law and misfeasance in office, the [illegible] of either very popular and social men, brusque and unsocial men or even "One of the Many" to the contrary notwithstanding.

It is true that I have put the patents under lock and key, as it was my duty to do but the charge that I ever refused to deliver one to the patentee is such a foolish falsehood that it is hardly worthy of notice.

In the whole of his letter so far as he has seen fit to make use of my name the writer signing himself "One of the Many" has told but the simple truths that I purchased a piece of land of its rightful owner and that I was appointed as register of this land office. The residue of this infamous letter pertaining to me, is nothing but a tissue of base calumniations, and though the author of it has cowardly sought shelter under a fictitious signature I here brand him whoever he may be as a liar and slanderer.

The bank [illegible] this season [illegible] the want of trade owing to [illegible] is a la[illegible] money for special purposes [illegible] which the removal of the [illegible] of paper is readily discounted [illegible] a [illegible] collateral in the [illegible] of extending or [illegible] outside of what is termed commercial [illegible] volume of capital [illegible] gages and the terms [illegible] have been in vogue [illegible] provided the property [illegible] rental [illegible] greater than the monthly interest upon the debt incurred. The stagnation in trade now existing throughout the United States has [illegible] cheap money a necessity as without it heavy borrowers will never be able to pay principal or interest and capitalists much against their wills no doubt will be compelled to take the mortgaged property for their debts. Many citizens of our own State have since the panic in real estate been carrying heavy burdens of this nature and through the continuous decline of values and the consequent cheapening of rents they have found it difficult to keep up interest and have now but a very poor prospect of ever reducing the principal. All are agreed that cheap money is the great desideratum in fact the necessity of the hour but no one can suggest a solution of the question. Money has a commercial value based upon the inexorable law of supply and demand which no legislation can affect hence we must needs have an over abundant supply before we can hope for any serious reduction.

Trade to-day has been very fair although not quite up to the average of the season — a change which is readily accounted for by the fact that the day has been observed as a semi-official holiday it being Memorial Day. The inquiry for merchandise embraces a full line of staples and comes chiefly from Eastern Oregon and the valley of the Columbia, whither round shipments are now being made. Improved crop reports from heaviest wheat growing sections have a tendency to brighten the trade prospect and business men generally are confident that the volume of trade will fall but little if anything below that of last season. Money is scarce throughout the whole interior and remittances promise to be very light until after harvest.

The wool clip comes forward very slowly and growers show an inclination to hold for higher prices while buyers are not desirous of purchasing very large as they do not consider that there is much prospect of any speculative movement either upon this coast or in the East as the future of the trade depends in great measure upon the ability of manufacturers to dispose of stocks already made up. In California the market is more active and large transactions have occurred during the past ten days. A leading wool buying firm in San Francisco in their circular state that the market is active with a good demand coming under the head of bright free wool. So far as our own market is concerned we have but little doubt that most of the clip will come forward as soon as the farmers have completed their spring sowing an operation unusually protracted in consequence of an unfavorable season.

In produce there is really no activity manifested and the surplus stocks of everything but flour and mill feed seem well nigh exhausted. We note sales of a few hundred bushels by Grangers to-day at $1 58½ per cental a figure but a shade under quotations. Potatoes are in full supply and the chances are that those who have been holding on for a round figure will yet be compelled to sell at very reduced and, of course, unremunerative rates. Returns from a late shipment to San Francisco show how utterly the market is demoralized, the price realized being but 19 cents per bushel net. Eggs are only in sufficient supply to meet local demands, and should a surplus accumulate they would only realize 16c per dozen for shipment to San Francisco. Below will be found our jobbing quotations for this special department.
